

LIQUENT Announces Latest Version of InSight®

Two New Powerful Additions to the LIQUENT InSight® Regulatory Information Management Platform

Horsham, PA – December 16 2010: LIQUENT, Inc. the global leader in regulatory information management solutions and services, is pleased to announce LIQUENT InSight® 4.7 which includes two significant product enhancements.

LIQUENT InSight® 4.7, the latest release of LIQUENT's regulatory information management platform, LIQUENT InSight®, will be available on December 31, 2010. LIQUENT InSight® 4.7 provides clients with global registration management and submission planning capabilities with a dedicated focus on enabling new efficiencies and ensuring worldwide regulatory compliance.

A significant new component in LIQUENT InSight® 4.7 is its enhanced dashboard reporting capabilities. These new dashboard reports provide users with a simple and easy way to view and interpret complex data and enable rapid and informed business decisions and significantly enhance user productivity. "LIQUENT's dashboard reporting provides our clients with the ability to view their registration status and product information in an easier fashion," said Jim Nichols, VP of Strategy at LIQUENT. "LIQUENT dashboards will empower our clients by transforming their data into actionable information and the ability to make faster and more educated decisions about their business."

Additionally, LIQUENT InSight® now has the capability for advanced dossier planning and global simultaneous submission management. This addition will eliminate the need for intermediate planning tools, such as, spreadsheets or separate databases and will allow users to securely communicate and share responsibilities, information and dossier status to all the involved business units across the organization. This new powerful option is integrated with electronic document management systems and publishing functionality to provide maximum efficiency in delivering the dossier planning stage within the workflows of content creation and submission publishing.

"Our latest products and enhanced functionality is another step forward for LIQUENT in providing the market with exactly the functionality they want and need," added Jim Nichols. "Our latest offerings provide enhancements that are specifically designed to help our clients simplify processes, increase their efficiency and assure regulatory compliance."
